University of New Haven – Department of Criminal Justice – Search #13-35
The Department of Criminal Justice, Henry C. Lee College of Criminal Justice and Forensic Sciences, University of New Haven is recruiting for a tenure-track faculty position. Tenure track positions require a doctoral degree. A J.D. degree alone is not sufficient for any of these positions. An appropriate record of scholarship or the clear potential to publish is expected. A Ph.D. in Criminal Justice is strongly preferred. An earned doctorate in a discipline other than criminal justice that is otherwise consistent with the stated specialization may also be considered. Additional experience and expertise is desirable:

Position/Rank and Salary: Tenure-track Associate Professor

Qualifications:
Criminal Justice Search 13-35 - Assistant/Associate Professor
Practitioner experience in law enforcement investigations or police command/executive experience, including attaining officer/command rank at the local, state or federal level is desirable. Experience/certification as a police trainer is also desirable (e.g. Certification as a Police Officer Standards and Training, Methods of Instruction, or similarly certified instructor). Research in policing and investigative techniques is also desirable. Expertise in teaching Statistics, Research Methods and/or Criminology is desired.

All faculty positions require teaching, scholarship, service and other duties consistent with the University's Faculty Handbook. Applicants should provide evidence of teaching, scholarship, service, and any sponsored research (e.g., grants or contracts).

Appointment/Start Date: Fall 2013

Application Deadline: Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position(s) is filled.

Application Process: Send a cover letter indicating position Search Number(s) and any specialization(s) applied for and summarizing relevant background, a vita, and contact information for three references to:

Human Resources, Search # 13-35
University of New Haven
300 Boston Post Road
West Haven, CT 06516

Electronic Submissions are Strongly Preferred
Submit Applications via e-mail to hrdept@newhaven.edu

Please place the Search Number in the email Subject Line if submitting electronically.

UNH is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer