University of New Haven
Physics Non-Tenure Track Lecturer – Search 12-102

The Department of Physics at the University of New Haven invites applications for an annually renewable non-tenure track faculty appointment. A doctorate in Physics is required, along with the ability to contribute to the teaching mission of the Department. We especially welcome candidates who can contribute to the growth of collaborative interdisciplinary research within the Department and the University.

The successful candidate will join a department with growing student course enrollments, a strong commitment to teaching, and a faculty with diverse research interests. The position is for Fall 2013. The review of applications will begin January 15, 2013, continuing until a successful candidate is selected.

Founded in 1920, UNH is a private, top-tier comprehensive university with an 80-acre main campus. UNH has an enrollment of more than 5,900, approximately 1,700 graduate students and more than 4,200 undergraduates, 70 percent of whom reside in university housing. The University offers more than 80 undergraduate degrees and more than 25 graduate degrees through its five colleges. Conveniently located near downtown New Haven, the University provides employees with a comprehensive benefit package and a professional, productive and pleasant work environment. Women and minority candidates are encouraged to apply.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a brief statement of professional goals, and a statement addressing teaching philosophy, along with contact information for three references to Search #12-102.

Application Process:

Email to hrdept@newhaven.edu

Search Committee #12-102
University of New Haven
300 Boston Post Road. West Haven, CT 06516

You must include the search # in the subject line of your email for consideration

UNH is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer