Non-Tenure Track Professor of Sport Management - #12-121

The College of Business at the University of New Haven is currently seeking a Non-Tenure Track Professor of Sport Management. The ideal candidate will possess a doctorate in sport management or related business field. Candidates must be able to demonstrate teaching and practical experience in a minimum of two of the following undergraduate and/or graduate areas: sport finance, general sport management, management, sport accounting, and international sport management. The position requires teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels and includes a focus on online teaching. The position will be intimately involved in student advising, job-placement assistance, and significant interaction with students and industry professionals. Preference will also be given to candidates who demonstrate technology skills, knowledge of assessment and assurance of learning, passion for teaching, dedication to experiential learning, and significant industry contacts. Requirements for all applicants include evidence of superior teaching, scholarship, service, and a strong commitment to our students' professional development. Curriculum development, integration of experiential learning in coursework, and service learning background are also highly desirable.

The hired faculty member will be based in the Sport Management Department, the largest undergraduate and one of the fastest growing components of the College of Business. The Management of Sports Industries program has been offering undergraduate degrees for over 27 years and graduate degrees (MBA and MS) for over 15 years. The program has an international reputation with well known faculty members, well positioned alumni, a dedicated advisory board, and a reputation for being innovative and offering cutting edge professional training. The University of New Haven is a private, master's comprehensive university. UNH has over 3,500 undergraduates and 1,900 graduates and offers more than 80 undergraduate and 25 graduate degree programs. UNH is experiencing record growth at the undergraduate level. The university recently opened a state-of-the-art recreation/fitness center and a new 400+ suite-style residence complex. Classrooms are equipped with the latest technology. Conveniently located near downtown New Haven, the University provides employees with a comprehensive benefit package and a professional, productive and pleasant work environment. Women and minority candidates are encouraged to apply. Submit cover letter, CV, and three letters of reference to Search # 12-121.
