

University of New Haven

Search#20-PSYSOCADJ

The University of New Haven invites applications for adjunct instructor positions in Psychology and Sociology to begin in Fall 2020.

The position supports the instructional needs of the Psychology and Sociology Department in teaching. The instructor would teach one or more college level psychology or sociology courses, depending upon instructor qualifications. Currently the department has teaching opportunities in introductory psychology and sociology, cognitive psychology, behavioral therapy, personality theory, and the history of psychology. Other possibilities, depending upon staffing, include graduate level statistics and counseling skills.

Preferred applicants would have excellent written and oral communication skills, a Master's or PhD in psychology or sociology, or a master's degree in social work. At least one year of college level teaching is also preferred. Experience with instructional technology, using web based instructional software, or other learning management systems is a plus.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of references via email to Dr. Amy Baker at abaker@newhaven.edu or to:

Search Search#20-PSYSOCADJ
Human Resources Department
University of New Haven
300 Boston Post Road
West Haven, CT 06516

Electronic submission is strongly encouraged. Please include Search #20-PSYSOCADJ in the subject line of all emails to ensure proper delivery. Interviews will be ongoing until positions are filled.

University of New Haven is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer