

Academic year 2021-2022

Dear Parents and Students in Project Lead The Way Courses:

We hope you are experiencing a rewarding school year, and feel that the pre-engineering courses through Project Lead the Way (PLTW) have been beneficial. There is no better time than right now to contemplate a career in STEM fields, as there are many more jobs in the United States than qualified people to fill them.

Since you are attending a PLTW school, you can receive college credit for the courses listed below from University of New Haven. Through these college credits your child can get a head start on STEM related career and add prestige to their college admissions applications.

PLTW Courses	UNH Course
IED - Intro to Engineering Design	MECH1101
POE - Principals of Engineering	EASC1107
DE – Digital Electronics	ELEC1155
EDD – Engineering Design and Development	UNIV1141
CSA – Computer Science A	CSCI1110
CYBR - Cybersecurity	CSCI2246

To be eligible for college credit for PLTW courses, students must receive a minimum of 80% for class average and meet the End of Course grade requirement administered by PLTW (see table below for eligibility and grades). Please note the letter grades indicated those assigned by UNH and they can be different than the grades teachers assign in high schools.
